

CLAUDIO OLACHEA

BIO

Claudio Olachea is an award winning composer, producer, and multi-instrumentalist based in Los Angeles who has written scores for major motion pictures and top-rated television shows. His unique approach to composition is heavily influenced by his time spent in the vibrant indie music scene of Washington, D.C., as well as his background as an accomplished classical violinist and violist.

Olachea's most recent work is an EP he wrote and produced entitled Down Here. The title song from his EP won a 2023 Webby Award in the Art and Experimental category. Originating from a series of voice memos dating as far back as 2012, Down Here is Olachea's first solo release and a major departure from the traditional solo composer album. With influences ranging from classical to psychedelia, Down Here is a bold debut showcasing Claudio Olachea's distinctive compositional voice.
